

Job advertisement Senior Consultant (f/m/d)

We are a solidly growing company with a focus on consulting, coaching and digitization. For national and international customers. We offer tailor-made solutions for purchasing and supply chain. As a consultant you bring your skills together with one of our experienced consultants directly into a customer project and develop individual solutions together with the consulting team.

Your area of responsibility

- Implementation of customer projects with a clear focus on customer satisfaction
- Systematic performance analysis and optimization projects
- Preparation and implementation of procurement market analyses and observation of market development trends
- Development of concepts for the optimization of the structural and process organization of the customers
- Accompaniment of projects around the introduction of software solutions
- Project management and project reporting

Your profile

- Completed university or technical college studies and/or several years of experience with a focus on Value Chain Management
- Analytical and structured way of thinking and technical understanding
- Fluent in German and English
- Secure handling of common IT software products
- High social competence, strong communication skills and ability to work in a team
- Fun in a responsible and independent activity

We offer

- Flat hierarchies with direct information and decision paths
- Open communication in dynamic teams
- Broad spectrum of interesting projects for independent and result-oriented implementation
- Support from a team of experts with many years of international industry and consulting experience
- Performance-related payment
- A variety of opportunities for personal and professional growth

Please send meaningful applications to info@adconia.de